SMALL FRY MEET IN JEFF RING

Residents Invited To Attend Event

by Earle Johnson

The Jefferson High School Gymnasium will be a boxing and wretling arena for the youth of Daly City tonight, Friday, July 20.

The Daly City Recreation Department is proud to present the Sixth Annual Boxing and Wrestling Tournament. The weights will start at somewhere in the vicinity of 50 pounds and upward to possibly 175 or 180 pounds if some of the larger high school age boys compete. The winner of each bout or match will receive a beautiful gold medal and the loser will receive a silver medal.

This event is held at night so as many parents as possible can come and watch their sons or just come as spectators.

Remember! The admission is free.

The time of the first event is 7:30 p.m. and the bouts will progress according to weights, with the smaller and lighter boys boxing first.

The judges for this year's tournament will be Councilman James Kennedy and Mel Battye. The referee will be Erle Johnson, announcer, Elman J. Rose, boxer's seconds will be Steve Pasafume and Frank Bria. Steve and Frank are former boxers and are instructed to take every precaution possible to prevent any of these boys fro being hurt.

The boxers' will use 16 ounce gloves and this will also prevent injury. With all the adverse talk and writing about boxing lately, we in the Recreation Department want to assure the public that these bouts are primarily for fun and not to determine the toughest kid in town.

The names of the boxers will appear in the paper next week. We are sorry that they are not available at this time.

Frank Bria and Nick Hitchener will stage an exhibition match somewhere in the program. Frank and Nick have worked out a routine similar to that which you might se any night on your favorite TV wrestling show. These two promise to spare no holds and their event will be something to see.

CHOSEN BY THE JEFFERSON ELEMENTARY School Board this week as new School Superintendent is H. Z. Weibel.

Board Chose Taft Official From List of 72 Male Applicants

An assistant superintendent of schools from Taft, California, has been asked to take over the superintendent's job for the Jefferson Elementary School District, it was learned today.

He is H. Z. Weibel, 46, father of three children, with 24 years of education experience to his credit.

Weibel was chosen from a field of 72 candidates for the position, Mrs. Hele Cheatham, school board member, said today.

Although Weibel has still to accept the school board's offer, it is expected he will sign a four year contract later this month.

He will assume the position left open by James Snell, who resigned at the close of the school year in June.

Salary Set

Weibel will receive a beginning salary of $7,050 a year, Mike Callan, school board chairman, said today. Snell received $6,500 a year.

"We were determined to get the best man possible," Callan explained. "Therefore, the difference in salary was a secondary matter."

It is expected Weibel will take over the superintendent's job in time to open the school year in September.

Mrs. Cheatham asserted the new superintendent was chosen "because he leans toward curriculum improvement." She said he had received "extremely high" recommendations from other men in the educational field.

Good Record

"He is known for leading teachers to demand higher standards of performance from themselves," Mrs. Cheatham said, quoting a section of one of Weibel's recommendations.

Andrew Van der Werff, clerk of the board, today said he was in complete agreement with Mrs. Cheatham and Callan, and was sure the board "has made a wise choice."

A graduate of the University of Nebraska, Weibel holds a Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degree from this university. He, also, has almost completed his Doctorate from Northwestern University.

Long Career

He began his teaching career at Grand Island, Nebraska, and was a principal there for two years. He was eight years as assistant superintendent of schools at Park Ridge, Illinois.

During the past three years Weibel has been an assistant superintendent and Director of Education at Taft.

He has two sons, 16 and 10 respectively, and a nine-year-old daughter.

COUNCILMEN MAY GET RAISE

North County Group Asks For Pay Hikes

City councilmen soon may get a pay raise.

The possibility of the salary increase is now under study by the League of California Cities and Peninsula League of Cities.

A request for the study was made last Thursday by the North San Mateo county council . . . a group made up of the five north county cities, including Daly City.

Councilman Joseph Bracco of South San Francisco suggested the increase. He noted that the various north county councils recently have voted raises for city employes, but no change has been made in the pay of councilmen.

Daly City officials now receive $50 a month. They have not had a pay hike in over five years.

No suggestion has been made as to how big the proposed increase will be.

Local councilmen could not be reached for comment.

However, no provision for salary increases has been made in this year's city budget. It is expected, therefore, that should a pay hike be approved, it would not take effect until 1952-53.

SCHOOL BOARD TO MEET THURSDAY

Bids on the Westlake fence will be opened at the regular meeting of the Jefferson Elementary School Board Thursday, July 26.

The public is invited to attend this important meeting which will be held in the Woodrow Wilson School, 344 Santa Barbara.

The meeting gets underway at 8 p.m.

Fred Bertetta Named To Head 1951-52 Daly City Area Community Chest Drive

A spirited discussion of local Community Chest problems highlighted a recent meeting of the Red Feather Committee for Daly City.

It was decided that this year a joint Red Feather Committee will be organized to serve Daly City, Colma, and Broadmoor. In previous years, separate committees were nominated for each of these districts.

City Councilman Fred Bertetta was the unanimous choice of the group as committee chairman.

"I am flattered in the faith the peole have placed in me," Councilman Bertetta said today. "And I am sure the community will support this year's Community Chest."

Representatives from the greater Daly City area were present and could not too strongly stress the need for more local "say so" about how, when and why community chest funds were to be solicited in their towns.

"Everyone wants to give, and everyone is willing to help," Dan Andersen, city administrator and last year's campaign chairman, noted. "But the establishment of a committee such as this will surely make it a lot easier for those doing the down to earth work in the actual campaign."

The committee members stressed that only through local community action can community results be achieved.

Councilman Bertetta Hopes For Turn Out

City Councilman Fred Bertetta today expressed the hope that more than three people will turn out for the regular city council meeting Monday evening.

"We have some important matters to discuss, and look forward to the opinions of the community," Councilman Bertetta said.

The council meets at 8 p.m. in the chambers of city hall, 75 Wellington Avenue.

Westlake Traffic

Lake Merced Cut Off Opened

The Southern end of Lake Merced boulevard which leads into Alemany Extension in Westlake will be discontinued as soon as the new cut-off is completed, according to Mr. Emile Raffetto, Doelger Leasing Manager.

Lake Merced boulevard which forks at Alemany has been a virtual "Death Trap" in the past. There have been at least two serious accidents within the last year, Mr. Raffeto said.

Although part of the Lake Merced road is in Daly City, it is undedicated land owned by the San Francisco Water Department. Land east of the boulevard is owned by Doelger and construction of the new cut-off has been underway for the last few weeks.

Mr. Raffeto pointed out that a period of eight months transpired before property rights for the new cut-off were exchanged for the section of Lake Merced boulevard which will be blocked-off.

Construction costs for the new road which will face Lynwood drive, are being financed by the Doelger Corp.

Automatic traffic signals are needed for the new crossing to insure safety, Mr. Raffeto added, but this will be an impossibility unless the road is officially dedicated by Daly City since the land belongs to San Francisco.

Police Answer Seaman's Call

Door to door canvassing work Tuesday on the part of Daly City police made it possible for a local man to receive an important emergency call while on duty at sea.

Police here received a call from the telephone operator in San Pedro asking their help in locating Fred J. Hooke of 339 Wellington avenue, as she had an emergency call for the man.

Finding no person of that name listed with the water department, the police canvassed Wellington street until they located Mrs. Pospisal, mother of Hooke, who informed them that her son was a sailor on the tanker, USS Cedar Creek.

The police forwarded this information to the San Pedro operator in order that she might contact Hooke.

It costs nothing to have your name in print. Phone PL. 5-4321 or write 3317 San Jose Avenue. . . your news items will be printed.

Local Cops Help Children

Good Samaritan acts by Daly City police this week accounted for two children being taken to the Junipero Serra hospital for treatment of small casualties suffered while playing.

Billy Brown, 10, of 464 C street, Colma, appealed to the police for help when he broke the little finger of his left hand Wednesday while engaged in football practice near his home. He was taken to the hospital in a police car.

Neil Mattson, 9, of 498 Crocker avenue, was playing barefooted in the street Wednesday and stepped on a piece of glass, cutting the bottom of his right foot. He also was taken to the hospital in a police car.

Brother Proves Fine Keeper For Larry

Rickey Dickinson, 9, of 101 Santa Cruz avenue, proved Tuesday night that the quotation about "his brother's keeper" contained no idle words for him. He reported to Daly City police that his five year old brother, Larry Dickinson, had wandered off and couldn't be found.

A local broadcast was made for the lost boy, only to have Rickey phone the police station a half hour later that the wander had returned home.

New Traffic Signals Slated For Operation Early Next Week

Scheduled to go into operation within the next week are the new signals at the "top of the hill," it was learned today.

The $70,000 job of signals and traffic chanellization was being wound up today with last minute wiring and painting lanes along Mission Street.

Included in the new signal set up are the intersections of Mission and San Jose; Mission and Hillcrest; and Mission and Hillside.

Also, part of the job includes the signals and taraffic islands at Market and Mission.

When the new signals flash red and green next week, they will mark the conclusion of a two year fight by the city council for the needed improvements.

The safety measures are being financed for the most part by the state, as Mission is a state highway.

It is expected the new system will prevent many accidents, and will relieve police officers for duty elsewhere in the expanding community.

TWO WOMEN INJURED IN HOME ACCIDENTS

Advertisements about accidents in the home became painful realities for two Daly City women recently.

Mrs. Lloyd Selmi of 6718 Mission street, suffered a slight fracture of her ankle Tuesday. She was treated at the Junipero Serra hospital.

More unfortunate was Mrs. Katherine Schlaich, 68 Vendome street, who fractured her right arm in a fall on Sunday. Taken to the Junipero Serra hospital for treatment she remained there overnight.

Porkers Perplexed

Expanding Community Is Rapidly Putting Hog Raisers Out Of Business

Where, oh, where are the hogs to go?

That's the perplexing problem local hog ranchers must solve within the next year. If they don't find an answer, the county probably will answer the question by simply ordering the ranchers to close down their business.

This came out at a special meeting of the San Mateo County planning commission recently.

The death knell for the hoggers was sounded when ranchers were unable to suggest a new zone of operation. In fact, many of the porker capitalists said they would rather close down than go to the expense of finding a new location.

Earlier, some location along the coast was suggested. However, the distance from market and the reluctance of coastside residents to such business put a damper on this idea.

Although hog raising was a major industry in Daly City and Colma 40 years ago, it is rapidly going under due to the expansion of the community.

New homes and schools are moving in, and the hogs are going to have to move out. Anyone have a suggestion where?

Warm Weather Keeps Blaze Busters Busy

Nothing apparently seems as determined to make itself manifest as a Daly City brush fire. In spite of the extremely damp fog conditions the first part of this week, the local fire department was busy putting out several grass fires.

Locations of these fires were: at the end of Peoria street, at the end of Los Banos avenue, in the vacant lot across from the Casino Club and in the vacant lot at Flournoy and San Jose.

Another Bike Stolen From High School

Another victim of one of the meanest type of thieves on record is Victor Mezzetti, Box 197, A street, Colma.

While Victor was enjoying the swimming pool at Jefferson Union high school Monday, his bicycle was stolen from in front of the building.

Victor's bicycle is a Schwinn model with an orange and white frame and wheels. There is a basket on the front of it.

What's In A Name?

RESIDENTS HAPPY WITH "DALY CITY"

On the basis of an item which appeared recently in a San Francisco newspaper column stating that a W. F. Strong was instigating a campaign to change the name of Daly City back to its original name—Vista Grande, the Record conducted a public opinion poll.

A total of 11 people—three men and four women—were chosen at random from the telephone directory in the hope that this group would constitute a representative segment of Daly City's population.

Although the phraseology differed, 10 persons answered negatively when queried about changing the name and one resident said that she was accustomed to the name Daly City, but "Vista Grande sounds nice."

It is possible that this is not a representative reaction to the proposal endorsed by W. F. Strong, but The Record presents this report without prejudice.

Mr. Conrad Haaland, 178 Wyandotte, said, "I don't think the name should be changed."

Mrs. W. G. Dogherry, 599 Vista Grande, a resident for eight years, said, "I think it's kind of silly, there's so many more important things."

Mr. J. M. Griswold, 149 E. Vista, a resident for over two years, said, "Daly City is alright for me."

Mrs. D. J. Seymour, 489 Willits, a resident for five years, said, "The name Daly City is well suited, so why change the name back?"

Mrs. V. Fellman, 51 Risel, a 25 year resident said, "All I have to say is that the name Daly City is alright with me."

Mrs. Ethel A. Miller, 875 Brunswick, also a 25 year resident, said, "Daly City is alright for my husband and me."

Mrs. J. Bishop, 6925 Mission, a resident for two years, said, "Let's keep it Daly City."

Mr. F. H. Johnson, 231 Irvington, said, "What's wrong with the name Daly City? It's good enough for me."

Mr. W. F. Dougherty, 103 Lake Vista, a resident for over a year, said, "We're so used to Daly City, but Vista Grande sounds good."

Mr. G. W. Crossland, 145 Hillcrest, and a resident since 1907, said, "Daly City is fine just the way it is."

Westlake Problem

Speed Limit To Check Death Road

The Director of Public Works in Sacramento has officially sanctioned the new 35 m.p.h. speed limit for the Alemany Extension in Westlake, according to Geo. Pingry of the Division of Highways.

New traffic signs to replace the old 45 m.p.h. speed limit will be posted within a week, Mr. Pingry reported.

Speeding vehicles have taken their toll in lives in the past. Because of the numerous accidents, the Westlake Property Owners Association urged the Division of Highways to conduct a traffic survey on this traffic problem.

Residents of Westlake have been bothered with this traffic hazard for two years, especially in the pedestsrian right-of-way which extends across Alemany to the Westlake Town & Country Market.

Action was finally prompted through the efforts of George Pingry and Councilman Fred Bertetta as Westlake was expanded to include 4,200 residents.

STATE LEGISLATURE CONSIDERS MEASURES TO CHECK NARCOTICS SALE

Sacramento, July 19, (CNS)—Members of the State Board of Equalization today (Thursday), were considering a resolution to require summary revocation of liquor licenses for establishments which harbor peddlers who sell narcotics to juveniles.

The resolution followed a statement by George Reilly, chairman of the board, whose district embraces seven counties south of San Francisco, including the Bay City, that he has already revoked two licenses in San Francisco, and a third license in San Mateo county will receive the same treatment.

Complete co-operation with state and federal narcotic officials will be pledged by the board in the mounting drive to halt dope sales, especially to minors, Reilly said.

The board chairman said he intends to follow up by asking the legislature for greater enforcement powers for liquor enforcement agents, who, he believes, should have general police powers.

"Under present law," he stated, "all the board officers can do is to report violations they see or hear about to other agencies. By the time the other agencies get around to acting, the offender is gone."

The Board of Equalization, he said, has power to close establishments operating in a manner regarded as contrary to public welfare and morals. But, he pointed out, the board's intention frequently is thwarted by lawsuits staying or nullifying effects of its decisions.

Children Aid "Lost & Found"

Because of the honesty of Daly City children, several lost items were made the responsibility of the local police over the past weekend.

Jerry Jastrumske, 11, of 120 B Los Olivos avenue, found and brought to the police station a flexy racer with a natural colored wood body and red wheels. The racer has rubber tires and rubber grips on the steering wheel. Jerry found it Saturday in front of the Hobby shop on Hillcrest drive.

Monday, James Cokinos, 10, of 37 Abbott street, entered the police station with two automobile tire tubes that he has discovered in a vacant lot in the 300 block of Abbott street. The 17 inch tubes carry the Yale brand.

Another lost article being handled by the local police is a child's blue tricycle with yellow wheels that was found on the corner of Belmont and Mayfair streets by the police over the weekend.

Twin Peaks Boulevard Reopened In S. F.

The scenic boulevard up Twin Peaks here has been reopened to traffic, Works Director Sherman P. Duckel announced this week. The route had been closed since last winter by heavy landslides.

The drive is a popular one with residents and visitors, affording a panoramic view of the San Francisco Bay.

Minor Week-End Accidents Reported

Two minor traffic accidents were reported to Daly City police over the weekend.

Saturday at the intersection of 87th Street and Junipero Serra boulevard, a car driven by Americo Barnella of 223 Wilson street, Petaluma, collided with a car belonging to Leta Salazar of 1574 E. San Fernando, San Jose. Only property damage was sustained and both vehicles were able to proceed under their own power.

Two San Franciscans, Robert Gordon, 434 Larkin street, and Joseph A. Ganon, 502 Taraval, also escaped with just property damage when their cars were involved in a collision at Lake Merced boulevard and Alemany Extension, Sunday.

W'Lake Barber Shop Opens

Jack & Woody Welcome You

Westlake's first barber shop opened this week at the Westlake Town and Country Shopping Center.

Under the management of two brothers, the shop offers all the conveniences of the modern barber shop.

Barbers include Jack and Woody Green, both residents of Westlake and boosters for the area.

Both brothers have been cutting and clipping for the past 25 years, and feel they know a little about the business.

Open six days a week, the barber shop will prove a boon to Westlake and Daly City residents who up to now have had to travel miles to get their locks sheered.

Jack and Woody invite their many friends and customers to drop in anytime and look around.

Education, San Mateo County

School Population Increases Almost 12% During Year . . . More Growth Expected

Continued growth in the school population of San Mateo County, despite a leveling off state-wide picture, was announced today by County Superintendent of Schools James R. Tormey.

During the school year 1950-51 the total attendance of the schools of San Mateo County was 40,575 units of attendance, 4,267 more children than the previous high of 1949-50, or an increase of 11.9 per cent.

Tormey pointed out that this growth of 11.9 per cent is not only in face of a general leveling off tendency of the state, but also is even a higher rate of increase than the 1949-50 of 10.8 per cent.

The largest number of additional units of attendance was reported by the San Mateo Elementary Schools with an increase of 832, and Redwood City with an increase of 769.

In terms of percentage of growth, Portola Elementary District led the list with an increase of 38 per cent; in second place were Menlo Park and Ravenswood with a growth of 26 per cent, followed by Laguna Salada Union on the north coast with a growth of 25 per cent. Other districts above the county average were Belmont, Hillsborough, Jefferson Elementary, and San Mateo Elementary School Districts, 18 per cent; South San Francisco Unified School District, 16 per cent; and Las Lomitas, 12½ per cent.

Growth in the elementary schools of the county was 14.5 per cent, while growth in the high schools was only 7 per cent. Tormey pointed out that these differences were highly significant and indicated the increasing number of students has not yet "hit" the high schools. In a few short years the high schools of the county will be faced with the same terrific housing and operating problems now encountered by most of the elementary school districts of the county.

YMI Programs Alaska Cruise

Some 80 councils of the Young Men's Institute are rapidly coordinating plans for a 15-day Y.M.I. Alaska Cruise, September 1-16, aboard the luxuary liner, "Princess Kathleen" of the Canadian Pacific Line.

Billed as an unforgettable trip to the "Land of the Midnight Sun," the king-size sightseeing tour is under the auspices of the Board of Management consisting of 13 San Francisco Y.M.I. councils, directed by co-chairmen Gerald I. Murphy and George T. Maisel.

Itinerary of the 5,000 mile scenic cruise includes major stops at Portland, Seattle, Victoria, Vancouver, Ketchikan, Wrangell, Juneau and Skagway with side trips up Columbia River Highway, Bonneville Dam, Butchart Gardens, through the Inside Passage, Ocean Falls, Prince Rupert, Behm Canal, Grenville Channel, Gardner Canal, Mendenhall Glacier, Glacier Bay, the Trail of "88," Carcross, Lake Bennett, Tagish Lake and Ben My Chree. One special stop will be made by the party at the famous "Shrine of Our Sorrowful Mother" near Portland where the shipload of tourists will attend Mass.

Reservations may still be made by contacting Mario J. Pistolesi, secretary of San Giovanni Bosco Council No. 613, with headquarters at 1606 Stockton Street, San Francisco. His residence is 343 Santa Barbara Avenue, Daly City.

HOLIDAY DRIVING

If you plan to be traveling over a week-end, you should also plan to drive extra carefully. Automobile accidents always take a sharp rise over week-ends, warns the California State Automobile Association. Don't be a week-end casualty of the highways.

Blood Bank

Demand For Blood On The Increase But Residents Fail To Support Bank

Accidents on San Mateo County Highways in recent days have made forceful impress on a serious blood shortage existing at the San Mateo County Blood Bank, it was reported today by Mrs. Paul Hanzlik, executive secretary at the blood bank.

Blood Bank officials today expressed themselves as "seriously perturbed" over the fact that donors, during the month to date, have decreased, while the demand to supply blood to critically injured and otherwise ill men and women has increased in an "Alarming manner."

Mrs. Hanzlik said, "Two blood donor programs are under way at the same time in the county blood bank, each of vital equal importance to every family in San Mateo County. One is the program wherein volunteers give blood for use of themselves, their family members or for friends, this blood to be supplied on instant demand where emergency blood transfusions are necessary.

Red Cross

The other program is the one conducted by the Red Cross and the Blood Bank. In this program, the Red Cross secures donors, the blood bank processes the blood, and the Red Cross again steps in to send it to our military hospitals and to the field hospitals in Korea for use of our war wounded.

Citizens are lettiing down both of these programs. In one accident case alone, last week, the blood bank supplied 25 pints of blood for a motorcyclist critically injured in a highway crash. Three times during the past two days the bank sent out blood to victims of highway crashes. In all of these cases the lives of the victims depended on receiving immediate transfusions.

Mrs. Hanzlik then pointed to what she termed as "the letting down of our war wounded by the citizens of San Mateo County." She reported: "The Red Cross has been assigned a quota of 600 pints monthly to be sent for use of our war wounded. Half of the month has passed and to date, where instead of there being 300 pints given by donors for this purpose, the records show only 140."

Urgent Appeal

The Blood Bank makes an urgent appeal to every citizen to become a blood donor before starting out on a vacation trip. Volunteers are asked to telephone immediately, to help save lives of those injured in auto accidents, of those needing transfusions for illness, and for use of the husbands, sons and brothers among the casualties of war.

She explained that the vast increase in the population of the county attendant by so many more persons needing transfusions, has not been met in increase of volunteer blood donors. The population increase she said, means more automobiles on our highways and more accidents. Likewise, the population increase has brought more critically ill expectant mothers and other unfortunates to our hospitals for blood transfusions.

Local Student Wins Scholarship

Mildred Chan of Daly City has been awarded the William R. Davis Scholarship by the Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Announcement of her award was made today by Professor Gerald E. Marsh, Committee chairman.

Mildred is a freshman in the College of Letters and Science on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Lions Club

Westlake Man Is Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Wednesday was George Pingry, California Division of Highways executive.

The Westlake man was introduced to the Lions by Dan Andersen, city administrative officer.

In a short speech, Pingry outlined the work of the Division of Highways in Daly City.

Of interest to Broadmoor residents was Pingry's statement that soon the signal system at Junipero Serra and School Street will be changed to allow north and south bound traffic more freedom. He said the signal for a left turn would be so set as not to go on unless an automobile was waiting to make the turn.

Meanwhile, the Lions this week announced they would hold their annual picnic about the first week in September. Watch The Record for further details.

Visitors to the California State Fair, August 30 through September 9, will consume more than 200,000 cups of coffee during refreshment pauses.

Two Local Residents Loose Drivers Permit

The Department of Motor Vehicles today announced revocation of the driving license held by Claire Charles Franey, 147 Winchester street, Daly City, for four driving while intoxicated convictions.

The board has also placed under order of probation the license held by Guido Louis Marsili, 38 San Pedro Avenue, Daly City, for negligent operation of his vehicle.

WIFE WON'T LEAVE HUSBAND ALONE

Scheduled to appear in Daly City court Friday to answer to a charge of disturbing the peace, Mrs. Marion Colvin, 110 Springfield drive, San Francisco, was arrested Wednesday at the home of her estranged husband, Arthur Colvin, 98 Vista Grande. She was released on $25 bail.

Wednesday morning, Daly City police responded to a call from Colvin and discovered Mrs. Colvin on his front porch ringing his door bell. When Colvin opened his door to talk to the officers, Mrs. Colvin dashed into the house and refused to leave. She was taken into custody by the police.

Colvin further reported to the police that Mrs. Colvin had been phoning him all that night and threatening his life.

Fence Takes On New Meaning For James

Until last Saturday afternoon the fence in the backyard of the Nash home at 123 Lake Vista didn't mean very much to James Nash, 3½-years-old.

But things have changed. Today young James is steering clear of the fence, and what is more important, the dog on the other side.

Last Sat., July 7, James climbed over the fence, met the dog, and ended up with a bite on the palm of his hand.

Westlake Baby Girl Swallows Toadstools

Although too young to be a girl scout, two-year old Linda Sue Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Allen of 10 Forest Grove drive, could have benefitted greatly by the nature lore taught by that organization.

While playing in the yard of her home Tuesday, Linda Sue ate several toadstools. She was rushed to the Junipero Serra hospital where her stomach was washed out, following which, her parents took her home again.

WESTLAKE FENCE HAS TWO SIDES

Anyway you look at it there are two sides to any fence, and the one in Westlake is no exception.

The fence went up last May to offer some protection for residents living around the new Westlake School site. Its purpose was to check sand from blowing into the homes facing that area.

Possibly over-anxious to be of help, two of the school board members gave the job to a local contractor, failing to call for bids. The third member noted the irregularity, brought it to the attention of the district attorney, and now bids have been called to build an enclosure which has stood for over two months.

It's a bizarre situation, made even more so by a score of Westlake residents who claim they don't want any kind of fence regardless of who builds it. Whether these residents speak for all of Westlake is another matter, but they are to be reckoned with.

Through all of this confusion it seems to us a little clear thinking is needed.

First: The fence was an honest effort by at least two of the school board members to alleviate a serious condition. The manner in which the fence was contracted was perhaps a mistake, but the intent was certainly praiseworthy.

Second: The school board, at least Mike Callan and Andrew Van der Werff, has indicated the fence is to remain only until such time as a more efficient method of checking the sand can be financed. They assert the fence is the best and cheapest way of solving the problem for the present.

Third: Mrs. Helen Cheatham, third board member, asserts the fence is not the answer. She believes the money could be used for more effective stop gap measures. She questions the legality of calling for bids on a fence which already stands.

It appears both views have merit, and it for each citizen to decide the right and wrong of the issue.

However, beyond the fence are the children, too often forgotten. Regardless of how the matter is settled, it is certain all the publicity the board is bringing to itself is not in the best interests of education.

We hope after the Westlake fence matter is settled some harmony will return to the board. No one wants any government body full of "yes" men; but on the other hand complete disagreement can be disasterous.

And while the board members claim some cooperation, they need much more to weather the problems coming up during the next school year. We say it is about time they hurdled the fence of differences, whether it be in Westlake or in their minds.

COUNCILMAN KENNEDY TAKES UP THE "SLACK"

While we have belabored local residents for failure to take an interest in community affairs, it is fortunate for them that their duly elected officials are not so lax.

Councilman Jim Kennedy, "junior" member of the city council, has time and time again displayed a senior interest in business which has saved taxpayers many a dollar.

This week we noted he was taking time out from his regular job to spend a few hours in the water department. As we were eavesdropping we are not at liberty to reveal the purpose of his visit, but it probably will mean savings on your water bill this fall.

However, the point is not so much what Kennedy was doing at the water department as the fact he was devoting precious private business hours to help you and your family. It is gratifying to know that Kennedy, as the majority of councilmen, takes real pride and interest in the position he was given by his neighbors and friends.

We only regret these same neighbors and friends don't take more of a healthy interest in the government Kennedy and the city councilmen are working so hard to preserve and improve.

FORTUNE NEEDS A HELPING HAND

Business is tough all over, and it is about time local business men, always alert to serve their customers, helped to serve themselves.

In spite of predicted war shortages, the market is now one where only the progressive merchant can succeed. The days of customer waiting lists are over. The "era of hustling" has hit Daly City, as it has the nation.

While other cities, many much smaller than this community, have fostered business men's associations and chambers of commerce, there has been no such effort here. True, a few local progressive business men have fought to keep alive the Business Men's Association, but they have been without general support.

A poll taken by The Record this week indicated that the majority of local merchants would welcome a good, strong Association. These are the men who know that such a group not only helps to boom sales, but also to boost the community.

We believe, with the proper leadership, such an Association might be formed. The Record will be glad to assist this movement in any way possible, for we are certain only a prosperous community is a good community.

How about it? Won't you business men do something to help yourselves? We'd like to hear from you.

NAME CHANGERS ON STAGE AGAIN

There were whisperings abroad this week about changing the name of Daly City. However, we doubt if the whispering will rise to a shout.

Our poll this week (we seem to run one every year) showed not an inkling of success for the name changers. Next year perhaps it will be different.

Although we have been ambushed by one persuasive "anti-Daly City" man, we "pass" on any opinion. However, we do venture to note that Paradise, a city in our home state, is the rip roaring town of that area; and that Hell, a smaller community we have passed through, can boast of little or no crime.

From A Corner

By Bill Katz

At this point we would like to get in our two-bits worth on how to be happy.

Seems every other book we pick up deals with this eternal quest. The movies and radio also appear to bask in the glory of boy getting girl, man making millions, and everyone generally coming out on top of the world.

In fact, the backbone of most advertising is how to be happy through the purchase of a deodorant or a $40 metal and collar for your favorite dog.

Golden Key

Some claim liquor is the golden key, others maintain a nice fresh walk in the morning will do as much. One guy we know swears by going on relief for long periods of time, doing absolutely nothing but sleeping. Another of our friends finds contentment working seven days a week as a carpenter.

Then there is Fritz whose summers are the finest of the year simply because he takes a job operating a merry-go-round at Santa Cruz. We think Fritz has come closer to the right answer.

Not that we recommend a merry-go-round for everyone; but we think the riders thereon offer something toward contentment. We speak of kids, all sizes, all shapes, and all ages.

Bad Ones

Frankly, we are very fond of children; especially the ones who need a healthy spanking once a day. We have one ourself, although he is too young to be paddled.

We like children mostly because they have yet to discover what it is to be really unhappy. Unless a kid is unduly morose, you won't find one who can't smile at least 10 times a day. Tell me how many grownups hold this record?

To the smal fry life is happy because every day is a day of excitement and discovery. Nothing is stale. The same sites take on a thousand shapes from pirate ships to rockets to the moon. The tree in the back yard can offer a child more real contentment than a new car in the car in the garage or a beautiful wife in the kitchen.

Good Faculty

Children have the faculty of being happy for they understand everything and are willing to forgive even more. Talk to some youngster for a few minutes, ask him what he sees, and he will weave you a pattern of description more magic than anything ever dreamed of by kings or beggars.

This is nothing new, of course. Any parent can tell you the same thing. But because it is such a common thing, most of us forget that the finest happiness can be found simply in the love of a child.

That's why we envy our friend on the merry-go-round. For four months out of the year he talks to no one but children, he lives for no one but them. He is a happy man who can fortify himself during those summer months for the darker months ahead, when he returns to the world of unhappy elders.

Letter To The Editor

Local Woman Disagrees With Editorial Comment In The Record

Dear Mr. Editor:

You and other citizens in the community were very concerned about the possibility of getting a new superintendent. The dozens and dozens of applications that poured in from every part of the country is proof that you had very little to be concerned about. How about trustees? That is my concern. It is easy for or Mr. Joe to sit back and pan these people who are giving their time and lots of it if they are doing their job. And their money, too, for remember they do not get one red cent for this work.

I ask you, Mr. Editor, how many responsible, conscientious, intelligent people will be bothered to take the guff handed out in this district? You may say there always seems to be plenty of candidates aspiring for this position, but I often wonder what was their motive for running. Some of the candidates never attend a board meeting, unless it is one or two prior to the election, and maybe one after. This leads me to beleive there is another motive for seeking the position than their interest in school affairs.

Therefore, Mr. Editor, I feel a good trustee is more difficult to get than a Superintendent, so you should think twice before panning the board or certain individuals on the board.

In your last issue you stated that in your opinion the board should not hire teachers without the approval of the Superintendent. You say it is an unfortunate situation that a well known local woman has applied for a teacher's position, "And was hired so she thought until your article," without the approval of a superintendent. This well known woman has been substituting for some three years in this district plus teaching a night class at the high school. Isn't this proof enough to the board that she is worthy of some consideration?

You say it is dangerous when thre citizens set themselves up to judge teachers. But these same three people are given the authority by the state code to choose a school superintendent and that field, I would say, is education. Surely if they could weigh the qualifications of a Superintendent they could judge a teacher. The school board has not been hiring the teacher up to this point, still we do have in the system some neurotics. Teachers that scream, humiliate and even persecute some children.

One teacher I'm told, informed the class, "The law will not let me touch you, but there is no law about me throwing things." What a good time that class must have had ducking flying books.

I heard one worried little child ask his teacher for the spelling list so he could study at home, the teacher turned on him and took all of two minutes reprimanding him about, "who did he think he was, that she should take time to make him a list of words." I'm afraid it will be a long time before this child will ask another question only to be so humiliated.

These are only two instances and very mild ones at that to what some are. Don't misunderstand me; there are plenty of fine teachers that should be appreciated, some more than they are, and compensated for the conscientious work.

But why do parents remove their children to private schools rather than to try and do something about the situation at hand.

I grant you Mr. Editor that a Superintendent should know the essentials of a good teacher better than the layman on a school board, but up to this point I wonder.

Westlake Resident Objects Fence Is Not The Answer

July 15, 1951

Editor
The Record
Daly City, Calif.
RE: Fence surrounding the Westlake School area.

I am a resident of Westlake and a taxpayer to the County of San Mateo.

I am of the firm belief that any type of fence would be a detriment to the Westlake Community, and a direct cause of depreciation to the surrounding property. It would be a blackboard for the children to write up, and a potential signboard for various types of outdoor advertising.

All other schools erected in the past have allowed a certain amount for landscaping, for the purpose of enhancing the surrounding property and not as a detrimental measure.

The fence that is existing now does not conform in any way with the physical character of the community. It is a blight to the Westlake Tract.

I understand bids are now open to construct another fence and remove the existing one.

That is wasteful and ridiculous, regardless of the circumstances.

As an emergency measure to keep the sand from blowing over, a very COSTLY installation was erected. We did not want a permanent fence of any type. The Westlake residents wanted an inexpensive lean-to type fence to take care of the dust and sand until proper landscaping was available. Then we wanted the fence torn down.

We have a beautiful community in Westlake, there are many restrictions as to the improvements to our own homes, we pay a lot of taxes, and our property is becoming more valuable as the tract is improved.

Let's not depreciate it by a bungled school area.

SANAI President Explains Work Of His Organization

(Ed Note: In the June 28 edition of The Record, we ran a picture and story on the Navajo Indians who adopted the Daly City Boys Club shirts. Following is a letter from the president of the Indian relief group, explaining the purpose of his organization.)

Dear Sirs:

SANAI began as an organization consisting of 12 people during and after the years of the big snow in 1948 as an unincorporated society to render material assistance to the Navajo Indians.

Following 1948 and through 1949 and 1950 other people became interested in the society and considerable material aid was given to the Navajo and Hopi Indians. In 1950 the society became so bulky that it was decided to form a corporation to aid any and all Indians of North America wherever such aid was needed or was possible to be given.

During the years of 1950 and 51, SANAI began its work by taking under its protection two orphan children and adding to the number until today at the close of the school year SANAI is rendering direct aid to 52 orphan, semi-orphan and neglected children on the Hopi, Navajo and Zuni reservations. In addition direct and material aid is given to the adult Indians through SANAI's representatives on the reservation.

In February 1951 SANAI became a California Corporation and was granted the right to obtain donations which were exempt from income tax under the laws of both California and the United States Treasury department.

Purposes for which SANAI was organized are two-fold. The first and primary purpose is to establish, maintain and operate either on or adjacent to the Indian reservations, orphanages for the care and protection of Indian children regardless of tribal affiliation. The second purpose is to grant material aid to any worthy needy Indians and to assist such educational institutions by furnishing packaged foods, soaps, clothing and any other materials needed to assist in furthering the education of these needy children.

SANAI's Orphanage shall be non-political, non-sectarian and non-controversial.

The officers, members, directors and all persons working in any official capacity for SANAI serve the society without fees, commissions or salaries and any person who operates in any capacity for the society must sign and deposit with the organization a loyalty affidavit (non-communist oath) subject to the laws of perjury.

At the present time SANAI is assisting 52 orphan children.

SANAI operates through the already established and recognized organizations, individuals and groups on the reservations. These groups and individuals are recognized and accepted by the Indian Council and render direct aid to the Indians. All assistance is rendered upon recommendation of these representatives who live and work among the Indians.

At present negotiations are underway for lands on which to build the first orphanage which will be self supporting when finished.

All cash donations are earmarked as follows:

Seventy-five per cent to Orphanage Building funds.

Twenty per cent to continue material aid program.

Five per cent shipment and miscellaneous costs.

If present plans materialize as they appear to be doing now it is expected that by September 1, 1952, the first orphanage for the care of 100 children will be finished and ready for occupancy.

The Sacramento Scene

by H. C. MacArthur, C.N.S.

(CNS)—Most startling news of the week in state circles was the rumor that Charles H. Purcell, state director of public works, plans to resign soon. Purcell refused comment, but would not deny the rumor, admitting he hasn't been feeling well for some time. One of the state's "elder" directors, Purcell has served California since 1928, part of the time as chief engineer of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge. His job pays $16,000.

EXECUTIVE: Governor Warren, quick to seize upon the publicity possibilities of TV, signed what he termed the most important bill of the legislative session on a Los Angeles television show. It was the bill authorizing the Feather River conservation, flood control and power project, which if completed according to present plans, would convey water as far south as San Diego. Only trouble with the bill is that the appropriation to start work was cut out by the legislature.

The governor cleaned up special appropriation bills; signed measures increasing superior judge salaries throughout the state; issued an executive order creating a new crime commission, members of which are yet to be named; said he needs psychiatric assistance to help determine if he will sign legislation designed to curb sex criminals, on the theory the bill before him doesn't accomplish its purpose; declared Mendocino State Hospital, under fire for allowing sex criminals to roam at will, never was a prime security hospital while at the same time, his director of mental hygiene ordered all prisoners confined to the hospital grounds; appointed Dr. Robert E. Burns, Stockton College of the Pacific President, as a member of the State Park Commission.

LEGISLATIVE: Senate rules appointed chairman and members of 35 interim committees, which will investigate as many subjects for 1953 legislative recommendations. The action released $540,000 for expenditure during the interim. Senator Ben Hulse, Imperial County, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee, drew the largest share, $100,000 for his interim committee on state and local taxation, while Senator Hugh Burns, Fresno, received $50,000 for following up on Un-American activities.

JUDICIAL: Death sentence for Wesley Robert Wells, colored, an asserted incorrigible confined in San Quentin prison, where he has been on death row for four years, also denied clemency by the governor, was reversed by a federal judge, but the attorney general will appeal the reversal.

LEGAL: Attorney General Pat Brown held reapportionment of the state into new congressional and assembly districts, as accomplished by the state legislature, is subject to referendum and a new apportionment adopted by the people at the same time as the referendum would be valid.

FINANCIAL: A $25,000,000 block of veterans farm and home bonds sold by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson brought the state a $110,369 premium, which cuts the interest rate to about 1.89 percent. A Bank of America headed syndicate of 97 firms bought the bonds. The state has a similar amount of bonds left to sell before voters in November, 1952, on an additional $150,000,000 worth of the self-liquidating bonds; Legislative Auditor Alan Post's prediction of falling state income appeared on road to being consumated with expected decreases in sales tax revenue from the spring high, caused, loan company officials say, by imposition of federal credit restrictions on cars, appliances, etc.

HIGHWAYS: Final link but one in four-lane highway from Sacramento to San Francisco will be completed in 1952, this being route from Sacramento Tower bridge to Yolo causeway. Last three-lane stretch is the Carquinez bridge.

PUBLIC HEALTH: Measles held the spotlight in communicable diseases report, with 1096 cases last week while polio showed slight increase with 40 cases.

AGRICULTURE: Top almond crop slated this year, with 42,000 tons in sight; poultry producers expected to market 714 million dozen eggs; new marketing order issued for "bedding plant" dealers; milk hearings being held preparatory to increasing retail prices.

THE COUNTY

Where's The Axe

San Francisco and San Mateo County buried the axe this week, but no one seemed quite sure in whose head.

Officials of the two counties promised closer cooperation both with citizens of their districts and with themselves.

It was noted, however, at the Thursday evening banquet none of the politicos introduced the real sour issues between the areas. They met only to discuss questions which would get everything off to a smooth start.

The boards of supervisors who gathered at the banquet seemed agreed something should be done about:

1. Rapid transit between San Mateo County and San Francisco.
2. Joint planning should be improved.
3. Coordinating centers of industry.

No one appeared quite certain as to what should be done, but the banqet ended on a happy note: they will all get together in the not too distant future to look into the matters in more detail. Maybe at this meeting they will discover what happened to the axe.

BURLINGAME

Pied Piper Called

It looked like a case for the Pied Piper. Burlingame is being invaded by swarms of mice.

Taking official notice of the wee creatures, the Burlingame city council this week took steps to rid the city of the "menace."

No one was quite certain how this was to be done, although all the Burlingame councilmen were agreed one one point . . . the mice didn't belong there.

No, the mice were coming from Millbrae.

And they were really moving in. One resident reported killing 200 mice with a shotgun early this week. He stopped them as they invaded his back yard.

MARIJUANA

"We Want A Trial"

It came as a complete surprise to big James Fleck. They said he was peddling marijuana to juveniles. He denied the whole thing.

Upshot of the charges and counter charges will be one of the most interesting trials of the year in San Mateo Superior Court next Wednesday, July 25. At that time Fleck and his 22-year-old buddy, Jesus Munoz, will answer for allegedly selling dope to South San Francisco teen-agers.

Fleck, who is 23, was arrested along with Munoz June 6. At that time officers reported he had been "pushing" dope to almost 100 youngsters in the area.

With a sentence in San Quentin facing him, Fleck is expected to fight pretty hard to prove he knew none of the 100 supposed dope users.

BOOKIES

Is The Judge Unfair?

Bookies, who often times consider themselves good if not legitimate busines men, were complaining this week about a bad deal.

The deal was coming from the Superior Courtroom of Judge Murray Draper. The bookies assert Judge Draper is "unfair," and is trying to "stamp out so called bookie activities."

Alfred C. Marshall, accused of taking bets, made the charge, as he asked that Judge Draper be disqualified from judging his case.

The Brisbane man asserted Judge Draper is reputed to be severe in cases where defendants have been convicted of bookmaking violations.

Judge Draper came up with this answer: "If I do not uphold the law, I will be derelict in my duty."

It might not suit Marshall, but it sounded pretty good to other citizens.

ACCIDENT TOLL

Death Is The Target

Death was the target of official action by County Supervisors this week.

Fed-up with the needless accidents on Bayshore Highway the Supervisors decided to reactivate the County Traffic Safety Commission. Purpose of the Commission: ride death off the highway.

One answer came up right away: get more highway patrolmen to keep the maniacs behind the wheel under control.

Sharp Park Man Fined $50 Here

Arrested by Daly City police Saturday, Ronald H. Carson of Sharp Park pleaded guilty and was fined $50 Monday on the charge of loitering around an automobile in a state of intoxication.

Carson was taken into custody as the result of a phone call from Lombardi's Tow Service informing the local police that one of the company's drivers was holding a person who was apparently under the influence of intoxicating liquor and not capable of driving a car.

Residents Invited To Eagles Picnic At Rogers Park August 12

Free beer, free ice cream and free to have nothing but fun for ten hours is in store for all participants in the huge annual family picnic of the Colma-Vista Grande Aerie No. 1848, Fraternal Order of Eagles, which is scheduled for Sunday, August 12, at Roger Reynolds Nursery Park, located on the El Camino Real, one mile south of Redwood City.

All members of the lodge, their families and friends as well as other readers of THE RECORD are given a special invitation to attend this gigantic outdoor event.

The picnic committee headed by Dell Fehl and Jerry Summers voice the opinion that this is the one picnic that should be a must on everyone's summer pleasure time. They promise that it will be in every respect an entirely different type of picnic and that persons from young to old will have a wonderful day.

The one adult admission charge to the picnic grounds takes care of all the expenses for the entire day, and includes participation in the numerous activities that come with every picnic, dancing and beer.

In addition children are admitted free of charge if accompanied by their parents. The youngsters will receive free ice cream and soda pop all day long. Mike Cubis, the Eagles Youth Guidance Committee chairman, has planned many games with prizes to interest the younger set.

All persons attending must bring their own lunch baskets. They are assured that table arrangements are perfect with plenty of room for everybody as there is ample room in the park for 750 persons.

Tickets for the gala event may be purchased at the park entrance the day of the picnic or may be obtained from any member of the Eagles' lodge.

Eagles Auxiliary Offers Potluck Dinner Next Tuesday Evening At Hall

Hot dishes, salads, desserts will tempt appetites at the pot luck dinner to be given by the women of the Colma Vista Grande auxiliary No. 1848, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Tuesday from 6 to 8 p.m. at the Eagles hall on San Jose avenue.

The public is cordially invited.

Members initiated at a recent meeting of the organization were Patricia Pawson, Dorothea Pawson, Eve Hobbs and Marilyn Moreno. Elected as the new mother of the auxiliary was Mrs. Freda Pederson. Refreshments were served by Midge Felh and her committee.

Three members of the auxiliary recently donated their blood at the Irwin Blood Bank for the Eagles Blood Bank. They were Mrs. E. DeBano, Mrs. Steiner and Mrs. Lynne Boskey. Mrs. Boskey has contributed about 26 pints of blood.

DEAR PARENTS

By Jane Keith

Mr. Cary knew she was a "complaint" the moment he set eyes on her. There was a pair of brown, unwrapped moccasins on the seat beside her. She was preoccupied with the ceiling rather than the displays and she was smoking a long cigarette with very short puffs. These, plus the fact that a woman had called with a sad story of "short-fitted" shoes, al ladded up to managerial headache for the day!

With eyes and lips set to "smile" he advanced to the fray . . . "Smudge on nose, dirty white shoes, smock under coat—" and as the woman smile in a placating sort of way he mentally added, "not the difficult type—I hope!" and said "May I help you?"

"A woman waited on me—she told me these "Stride-rites" ran a little longer than usual, but when I developed a blister on my big toe, well, knew she was wrong. . . Like I told you over the telephone, remember?"

Mr. Cary looked deep into her eyes and said nothing.

"Of course, it's my fault, too, I know my own feet—long, skinny and hard to fit—but—"

"Let's measure" said Mr. Cary in a serious, professional tone and shook his head ever so slightly. "These shoes should fit according to this" he added and there was another moment of silence. "When did you buy them?"

"About a month ago" the answer came hurriedly. "I know I should have brought them in sooner, but I kept thinking maybe they weren't broken in or something" she added lamely but with a desparate appeal in her eyes. "You know," she continued in a sudden burst of confidence, "This is the first time in my life I ever returned anything to a store—"

Twenty minutes and a stout pair of Girl Scout oxfords later the lady walked out of the store. She was smiling and her toes and heels showed through the straps of a pair of white Town and Country sandals—an even exchange—on the store books . . . a happy and satisfied customer.

"There had been a slight tussle over those oxfords" she thought, walking down the street, "but the man had ended up by seeing things her way. He had not only been a gentleman—he had SMILED as she left. . . "

What she didn't see or know was the reason for that smile. Mr. Cary, with twenty five years in the shoe business to his credit had had that afternoon a quiet revelation from her visit. "Anything CAN happen in America" he told his wife that night in his still slightly Swiss voice, "Only this afternoon I met a woman who had never returned a purchase in her life—and somehow, I believe she was telling me the truth!"

P. G. and E. WINS ANOTHER TOP U.S. HONOR FOR SERVICE TO FARMS!

The average California farm last year produced $16,000 in crops, three times the national average. A real help in making these farms so productive is the widespread use of low-cost electricity. Pumping of irrigation water, for example, averages only 3½% of production costs, increases crop yield 20 times.

So outstanding is the role of electric power in aiding California agriculture that P. G. and E. was judged by Farm Journal Magazine as best in the U. S. ". . . in promoting farm electrification as a productive force for better farming and better living." You'll be interested in how P. G. and E. brings greater prosperity to the farmer—even if you live in a city—for 40% of the business in California cities depends upon agriculture.

P·G·and E· PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY

So that farmers' pumping plants will deliver the greatest amount of water at lowest cost, P. G. and E. maintains pump testing crews that save thousands of dollars for customers. This service is free.

A staff of over 100 Farm Power Advisors is maintained by P. G. and E. to help farmers get maximum efficiency from electric installations at minimum cost for power. Last year these men made 39,326 free calls.

Even remote farms in mountain areas enjoy metropolitan utility service. From August of 1945 to last December, P. G. and E. built over 14,000 miles of rural lines. At present over 98½% of California farms are electrified.

Housewives on farms and in cities alike enjoy electric living at rates lower than in 1940. Electric rates in Pacific Gas and Electric's farm territory are among the lowest in the entire United States.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

Odd Jealousy

ONCE THERE WAS a sweet, good, hardworking wife and mother whose husband was disagreeable. For years she put up with it. She was snubbed and hurt, and the children—she had four children—were snubbed and hurt, and a wide circle of kinsfolk and friends used to say, "Isn't it a shame the way Harold treats Marlise?"

Harold was a successful lawyer; his work was entirely in his office, he rarely went into court, and he always thought he didn't want court work. Marlise thought it was her job to stick to him in spite of her trembling hands and filling eyes and shaken heart because of home and children, and because "that was the way Harold was." He was a generous husband and father in whatever money and effort could do, he stood well in church and social life, and was genuinely popular. But at home he made life difficult; the children were silent when Daddy was at the head of the table, and Marlise was nervous and explanatory.

Marlise had a wise mother. I never met her, but I know she was wise. After a rather painful scene at which the older woman was present, when Harold had been more than usually cruel in words and manner this mother said something like this:

"Marlise, Harold is jealous."

"Mother!" Marlise said, shocked, "you know I've never looked at another man. You know how I love Harold, in spite of all his difficult moods, and how I live for the boys and little Marie-Louise."

Jealous of Everything

"I'm not speaking of another man," her mother said. "I'm speaking of everything. Everything. Harold's jealous of his sons and of the baby, he's jealous of your calls on me and your affection for your brothers, of your telephone calls and your woman's club, of your Red Cross morning every week and your canasta group. In short," this mother may have concluded, "of the works."

". . . Harold is jealous . . ."

Marlise took this to heart, didn't believe it, and decided to prove that her mother was wrong. It so happened that her brother was having a birthday that week and she had decided to give him a very smart type of jacket. On the birthday she said to Harold, "You had to have your coat, too—yours is a little nicer than Jack's because it somehow looked more like you," and she presented him with a jacket. Harold merely said a gruff, "how come?" then, but next day he wore the jacket to the club lunch and she heard him saying, "Marlise picked it out for me" to more than one friend.

A great light broke over Marlise. She went seriously into the business of spoiling Harold. When he next commented on a case she said casually, "Hal, I never heard you plead in court. If you do on this case, let me come down and listen."

"Bore you to death," said Harold. But an hour later he telephoned home that the case would come on in an hour, and when she shifted her program about, abandoned everything, and went down to court, she found that the bailiff had reserved a seat for her.

An Evening's Walk

A night or two later, when he came home nervous and jaded, she let him eat his dinner, and then asked him to walk about the block with her in warm spring dusk and get some fresh air. They rather got in the habit of doing this, and if the boys suggested that they go along she would say, "No, this is Daddy's and my time together; you children are out all day while he's shut up in the office, and you can walk any time."

Harold began to talk more freely at the family dinner table about his work; Marlise had gained a real knowledge of it now; and gradually the children came to realize that at any cost Daddy came first with mother, and to temper their demands accordingly.

And the whole trouble at the Rosses' solved itself, and grew—as the solved problem always grows—into a better state of affairs than if there had been no problem to begin with.

Of course, if a man and his wife are genuinely sick of each other's company, and fundamentally incompatible, then the task of reconstruction is harder. But love is a fluid and unpredictable element. It can spring up with sudden devastating force between two who believe they are enemies; one moment of it can wipe out years of coldness and hurt. We human beings are all pretty much alike in our essential makeup. Many a couple who part in bitterness and disillusionment lose, in a divorce, the very thing which they are seeking—love.

LIFE PICKS UP AT 90
But Gets Interesting At 100

by Cy Donaldson

Life begins at 92 for Eric "Frank" Gustavson, 226 Miriam street, a resident of Daly City since 1941 and probably the city's eldest resident.

"Frank" is not his given name; it was bestowed on him by a boyhood friend who told a grammar school teacher that Eric's name was Frank when he was unable to answer and he has been Frank ever since.

Born in Goteborg, Sweden in 1859, Frank journeyed to the "promised land" with his sister, three brothers, and his mother in 1866 to meet his father who had established a residence in Keokuk, Iowa.

Frank is the only living member of his immediate family and he has been staying with his daughter, Mrs. Francis De Nike, and his son, Frank R. Gustavson, for the last ten years.

There are three children who know Mr. Gustavson as their Great-Great-Grandfather, seven Great Grand children, and three Grand children.

Frank takes an active interest in current affairs. He subscribes to three newspapers and is compiling a scrap-book bibliography of all the maps of the Korean War which he cuts from his various papers.

Changed Outlook

Something which changed his outlook toward life were two books by Dr. O. S. Fowler which he read in 1882. Dr. Fowler wrote about prolonging life by not being ruled by worries and trivial anxieties.

These writings made a deep impression on Frank and he partially attributes his 92 fruitful years to following Dr. Fowler's philosophy.

"I don't worry about the past and I have no fear of the future," Frank said, "Nine out of ten times these things we worry about never happen."

He has always enjoyed an occasional cigar or a pinch of Copenhagen, but he declared, "I've never bought a drink of whiskey in my life."

When questioned about California, Frank stated emphatically, "I wouldn't leave California for anything; I wouldn't take the finest mansion in the East for my home here. The climate suits me, it's not too hot and not too cold."

For 29 years Mr. Gustavson has driven a vehicle and he rightfully boasts of never having an accident—an enviable record by any standard.

Good Memory

Frank has a startling vivid memory for names, places, dates, and events which have transpired during his lifehood. "I remember when my little brother died," remarked Frank, "I was only 2½-years-old."

For 37 years Frank worked as an iron molder until he was 67 when a serious illness forced him into retirement in 1927.

Our eldest citizen has lived in Iowas, Illinois, Kansas, Colorado, Nevada, and Utah before coming to California.

In 1885 Mr. Gustavson moved to Solano, Kas., as a homesteader, but a five year drought forced him to abandon his farm and move into Dodge City during the wildest period in its history.

Western Days

Frank worked at the Dodge hotel and remembers well the wild rootin-tootin nights during the cattle round-up season when there were 1000 cowboys riding herd on the two million head of cattle around Dodge City.

"Every day we used to find a dead body on the streets of Dodge City," Frank recalled. "I also remember Bat Masterson (the sheriff who cleaned up Dodge City) as one of the biggest gamblers and the toughest men in town."

It is the hope of this reporter, and I'm sure all of Daly City seconds this response, that Frank Gustavson fulfills his ambition and reaches the 100-year-mark.

San Francisco State 'Gators To Hold First Football Practice August 27th

On August 27, the starting date for Fall football at San Francisco State, coach Joe Verducci can expect a fairly large number of veterans to turn out in uniform for the '51 season.

Like every other college many of the gridders enlisted during the past months; only two were lost by graduation. These two were all-conference half, Bob Keropian, and defensive guard, Clint Lewis.

Star Quarterback Returns

Of the two 1950 star quarterbacks, Sam DeVito, number one man in Verducci's "T" will return for his last season. Sam's 50 per cent completion record in passing was a major factor in the Gator's high scoring last season. Tom Ripa, Sam's valuable understudy, has enlisted in the Navy since last year.

Other key men returning can, if necessary, make up the starting line this Fall.

Hard Man To Stop

Five foot 5 inch Rudy Smith, who scored eight touchdowns last season from at least 40 yards out, is expected to figure heavily in Verducci's plans. Despite Smith's size he is one of the most effective men on blocking and tackling assignments.

Fullback John O'Shea will be available this fall. Last year he played on both offense and defense.

Marvin Crews and Jack Caruso will also be contenders for backfield positions. Crews ran 214 yards in one game last year. Caruso, a senior, has scored many time in his career at State.

Veteran Line

In the line the Gators have many of last seasons regulars. Dick Payne and Elmer Gallegos, starting ends in '50, return plus depth in Mel Haynes and Gene Gordon. At guard Verducci has Don Clare, Bob Watt Bob Muster and Gene Andersen. Bob Williamson and Paul Oliver are veteran tackles. Dick Amandoli is the sole return at the center post.

Coach Verducci expects 4 or 5 transfers from junior college and 15 to 20 freshmen to round out this fall's team.

HOW ARE SPARK PLUGS?

So long as the engine keeps running, the modern motorists pays scant attention to the spark plugs, points out the National Automobile Club. Yet they must be absolutely right to assure good performance throughout the engine's power range. It is well to remember that plugs wear out. Having them checked over or replaced may make a great difference in car performance.

BRIDGES

Socialism Looked Fine

While most of the country was opposing socialism, not many tears were visible this week when the state announced it would take over two San Mateo County Bridges.

It was a form of socialism alright, but it also spelled dollars saved. That was enough for most taxpayers.

The bridges to be taken up by California in September will include the San Mateo-Hayward and Dunbarton spans. Both cross the South San Francisco Bay.

Although no one was saying it, here was a case where socialism was going to pay off. The state was to buy the bridges for a total of $8,500,000; and promised to slash the 50 cent toll to 35 cents.

Life Insurance Advice Given

The most important advice offered by Floyd D. Granger, Veterans Service Officer of San Mateo Count, to World War II veterans in connection with their National Service Life Insurance under recent changes in Federal laws is:

If you are re-entering active military service, retain your NSLI under the premium waiver privilege.

If you are not re-entering service, and have a level premium term policy, be sure it is properly renewed ahead of its expiration date.

"Veterans going back into the armed forces are being offered various alternative courses to follow in connection with insurance protection for their dependents," Granger said. "Since they may now obtain free $10,000 coverage under the indeminity provisions of the new insurance act, they may be tempted to drop their NSLI. Actually, they may retain it and have all or part of the premiums waived, depending on the type of policy. If it is a term policy and should expire while they are in service, it will be automatically renewed."

He pointed out that the idemnity plan does not have all the advantages of standard NSLI, such as unlimited choice of beneficiaries, and that the new post-service insurance which replaces NSLI for Korean war veterans contains certain restrictions which do not apply to NSLI.

For veterans holding term NSLI, which must be renewed in advance of its expiration date, Granger emphasized that failure to effect renewal in time now means permanent forfeiture of insurance privileges based on World War II service. Permanent plan NSLI policy-holders are not affected by the new law.

Information on the effect of the new Federal law on veterans and servicemen is available at the Veterans Service Office, Courthouse, Redwood City.

Film Projectionist Perched "High Lonesome" In His Booth

by Cy Donaldson

Mr. "Dick" Thomas, 36, is literally above all the people he entertains as he operates his film projection machines in his projection booth which overhangs the balcony and main floor seats in the Daly City theater.

Lord and master of his domain, he provides pleasure for the masses on a six day, 42 hour-a-week basis as a member of the film projectionist's union, I.A.T.S.E., local 409.

Seldom seen from his vantage point, Dick maintains and operates the two large film projection machines which alternate automatically every 18 minutes—the duration of one reel of film.

The timing is instantaneous and the only indication that the machines have alternated is the split-second shaft of light which appears at the right hand corner of the screen.

In most neighborhood theaters a single projectionist is employed, Dick pointed out, but in some of the larger movie houses in downtown San Francisco there are two projectionists.

Dick worked as an usher and a theater manager before becoming a projectionist eight years ago. He remarked that most of the projectionists he knows have learned the trade while working in some minor capacity in theaters.

Two jobs which keep him busy are checking the reels of film for breakage before their projection and replacing burned out carbon filaments in the cameras every hour.

Shop talk with members of his union usually revolves around the direction, filming, acting, and special effects of various film productions.

The union's trade journal reviews all the latest movies to be released by motion picture studios and projectionists have a good idea of a picture before its release.

Because of his close association with the film industry over the last 22 years, Dick has his list of epic films.

Included in his list of old-time favorites are "Wuthering Heights," the best dramatic film; "Lost Horizon," the best music and scenery; "The Great Waltz," the best musical; and "Our Vines Have Tender Grapes," for its marvelous simplicity.

Dick thinks there is too much stress on crime and violence in modern films. One of the best films he has seen in the last two years was "The Asphalt Jungle," which was based on crime, but superbly directed.

During the eight years Dick has been a projectionist, he has never encountered an accident by fire in a booth. Fire danger is lessened with the new non-inflammable acetate film which is replacing the inflammable nitrate film.

In reference to the size of his booth, Dick smiled and said, "After they build most theaters, architects remember that they must reserve a place for the projectionist and his equipment. A few years ago many theaters were without toilet facilities for projectionists."

At the top of the stairs leading to the booth someone has posted a movie placard advertising the film "High Lonesome"—two words which aptly describe the projectionist's retreat.

'Twas Only The Foggy Foggy Dew . . . No Fire

Under certain conditions, even the very soft, feathery fog can call noisy attention to itself as Mrs. Helene McClelland of 7 Belmont Drive discovered over the past weekend.

Mrs. McClelland reported to the Daly City police that she believed a fire box across the street from her home was making a "clicking" noise. However, the police upon checking found that the fire box was in excellent order.

Further investigation on their part disclosed that the clicking noise was caused by heavy fog running off the roof of the McClelland home and dripping into the drain pipe. Besides being soft, feathery, and noisy, this fog was also damp.

One hundred seventeen years after it was written, "The Star Spangled Banner," was decreed by Congress as the national anthem of the United States, March 3, 1931.

Deer Season Opens July 25 For Bow And Arrow Experts

The first of California's deer hunting seasons opens one-half hour before sunrise, Wednesday, July 25, for bow and arrow sportsmen only in portions of 27 Coast Range counties between Mendocino and Glenn on the north and Orange and Riverside on the south.

The 10-day archery season ends Friday, August 3, in the central and south coastal areas. Bag limit is two bucks.

Bow and arrow hunters must be equipped with a $3 archery hunting license and an archery deer tag. The tag is valid only during one of the two annual archery hunting seasons, and may not be used for hunting deer with firearms.

Salmon Anglers Rewarded By State And Tyee Club

Fishermen catching salmon tagged by the Fish and Game Division of California may receive a monetary reward by returning the tag to the Division of Fish and Game, North Rotunda, Museum Building, Stanford, California.

The Tyee club of San Francisco has put up $500 in cash prizes for returned tags bearing secretly-recorded numbers which were placed on salmon caught during one of the annual Division-Tyee Tag Day trips.

Through this tagging process, state biologists are able to reliably chart migrations, growth, longevity, and other biological factors which aid in the long-range conservation program.

Every angler who returns the tag will receive a commendation card from the State Division of Fish and Game, and a brief history of the fish.

Army Enlistment Program Extended

If you have taken your pre-induction physical examination, here is your last chance to volunteer for the service of your choice —Army for 21 months or 3 years or the Air Force for 4 years.

Originally, the deadline was midnight, Sunday, July 15, for those men who had already taken their pre-induction physical examinations. However, on Monday of this week (July 16) it was found that some men had not been able to meet that deadline due to circumstance beyond their control. Therefore, authority has been granted to extend the opportunity to enlist until midnight, Tuesday, July 31.

A new Universal Military Service and Training Act was recently signed by the President into law, requiring 24 months compulsory active military service plus six (6) years mandatory reserve service at the end of the 24 months. But, for those who are released at the end of their 3 year enlistment period there is no required reserve period: the 21 month enlistees, however, will serve 5 years in the reserve service.

As regards your civilian job status, the following is quoted, in part, from a memorandum of the U. S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Veterans' Reemployment Rights, dated June 22, 1951, addressed to all armed forces recruiting stations, "Persons who enter military service, voluntarily or otherwise, may now serve and retain reemployment rights." Accordingly, you are guaranteed reemployment when you return to civilian life at the end of your military service.

VINCE & FRED'S WIN FROM PARK PRESIDIO 11-4

Vince and Fred liquors powered their way to a 11-4 victory over the Park-Presidio nine last Sunday at Marchbank Park.

This game marked the semi-professional debut of Charles Donley, a Jefferson High grad, in AA competition. He pitched a good game for the liquors until relieved in the fifth inning by Del Libra when the score was 7-4.

Del Libra finished the game and allowed only one hit over four innings.

Every man on the liquor team made at least one hit in the 17 hit slug-fest and Lucia led the attack with three hits in four times at bat.

Next Sunday's game will be played at Funston field at 2 o'clock against the Weststate Realty.

Hatchery Mourns Mackinaw's Death

If ever a fish deserved a full-fledge obituary it is "Old Granny," a 28-year-old mackinaw trout who passed to her reward recently at the State's Mt. Shasta fish hatchery.

The once-prolific matriarch was the last of California's hatchery-bred mackinaws. Although none of her possible family of 33,750 children were with her at the end, the hatchery crew was in attendance, clocking off the fish statistics Old Granny's 28 productive years had upset.

268-Years-Old

She lived four times as long as does the average wild mackinaw, and weighed about 17 pounds at her heaviest. By human standards, she lived the equivalent of 268 years.

A native of Minnesota, she was part of a shipment of eggs brought to the Division of Fish and Game hatchery in 1923, where until her death, she was one of a quartette of display specimens viewed by thousands of visitors. She became the lone survivor when she outlasted a cousin who died at 24, in 1948.

Ends Experiment

Granny's demise closes the books on State experiments with the raising and planting of mackinaws. None of the large lake trout have been planted in California waters for nearly two decades. Artificial propagation efforts have since been switched to native trout species.

JUDGES

Justice Pay Upped

Justice was getting a pay raise this week in San Mateo County.

Superior court judges will now receive an additional $3,000 a year, over half of which will be paid by the state.

The Judges salary went from $12,000 to $15,000 a year when Governor Warren signed the pay hike bill Tuesday.

Time and a half pay after 40 hours in any week is required by the Federal wage-hour law for non-exempt covered workers.

900 PREDATORY ANIMALS KILLED IN MAY BY STATE

More than 900 predatory animals, ranging from skunks to mountain lions, were taken during May by the 41 hunter-trappers of the California Division of Fish and Game.

The month's catch included 243 coyotes, 162 bobcats, 58 raccoons 69 skunks, 11 bears, 2 mountain lions, and 319 other small predators.

The Division's trapping program, a continuous campaign against game-killing varmints, is the biggest of its kind in the Nation. State employees account for about 35 per cent of the annual take of unwanted predators in California.

POISON GAS FUMES

The exhaust gases expelled from an automobile engine are laden with poisonous carbon monoxide gas, warns the California State Automobile Association. All exconnections between the engine and the extreme rear end of the tail pipe should be checked at frequent intervals for possible leaks. Fumes escaping under the car may be forced into the passenger compartment by under-car vacuum pressure created while the car is in motion.

Telephone service is always homemade, in and for each community we serve. Here a cable goes into service.

MORE HOME-TOWN SERVICE FOR WEST'S HOME TOWNS

We're putting many millions more into telephone facilities this year

1. All across the West, in the country and in the cities, telephone people are still hard at it expanding and improving the telephone system. For our population continues to grow. The demand for new telephone service goes right on . . . in spite of our having doubled the number of telephones in use in the past ten years. And doubling the amount of money invested in the telephone business in just five years.

3. It's taken a tremendous investment to build to serve the million and a half new telephones we've added since 1945. And, building as we have in the face of inflated costs, the equipment to serve a new telephone has averaged about $400. Before 1940, the average was about $250. Yet rates are up far less than our costs of providing service . . . on the average less than half as much as the cost of living. Your telephone is one of your budget's best friends.

2. New facilities, installed in just the past five years have increased our plant $660,000,000, the largest expansion program ever executed by any public utility operating company. Again in 1951, we'll put many millions of investors' money into the West. Much of the material we will use will be purchased in the West's towns and cities. Certainly most of them will benefit from the program's jobs and payrolls.

HORSES AND THE ACTOR

by Ridgely Cummings

My friend Wally is an actor by profession but a horse-player by avocation.

Now that the ponies are running at Hollywood Park he spends his spare time, which is plentiful for casting is slow these days, at the track and his evenings pouring over the racing form.

We were debating the advisability of catching a bus the other day to Inglewood, where the track is, an hour's ride from Hollywood.

"I really ought to visit my agent," said Wally. "He's forgetting what I look like. Or else go over to Burbank and see the casting director at Warners. But I feel lucky today. Come on out to the track with me."

Reminder

"Can't. I have an appointment this afternoon. I'd like to though."

"An appointment? That reminds me of what happened in New York last year," said Wally.

"I'm in a play you see, a long run, good notices and no matinee that day. I had an appointment myself and these fellows were in the same play with me. They had a car and begged me to go to the races with them. I wanted to go but I said no. Then they offered to drive me uptown to keep my date.

"We never stopped. We went right on out to Jamaica.

"The first two races were over when we got there. It was a misty day with a wet track.

"I phoned in my apologies and then bought a racing form, which gives all the past performances. I looked up the history of the two horses that had won the first two races. Both of them were fast starters.

"Well, I told myself, that's it for today. Bet the fast starters.

Lots of Talk

"The other fellows knew the track, knew the horses, even said hello to the jockeys as we leaned on the rail. They were full of talk about superior mudders and sure things.

"But I ignored their tips and picked my fast starters. By the end of the seventh race I was $120 ahead.

"On the last race I listened to them. They said, look Wally, you're betting with the track's money. You can afford to plunge. Now here's a sure thing. Boom Town. He's the favorite so he won't pay much but he's bound to win. You'll double your money. Better put the roll on him.

"I bet fifty on Boom Town to win. At the same time I bought a two dollar ticket on a long shot called Deep Sea Novice. Just picked him out by his name because the mud was deep and because I noticed he broke fast in a previous race.

Fortune Running

"I came back to the rail with the tickets and watched the horses start. They were off. Boom Town broke last and was trailing at the first turn.

"I looked at my friends. They were smiling. Don't worry, they said. He's a back runner. He always runs behind until the stretch.

"One chap, the juvenile lead in the play, was strolling up and down, grinning and supremely confident. Boom Town is running his usual race, he said. He'll pay off like a slot machine.

"In the back stretch Boom Town was still dead last. At the far turn he began to move up. Turning into the home stretch he started passing all the horses as if they were standing still.

"Then he got in a pocket behind the leaders. When he thundered past us at the rail he was bunched with four other horses. It was a photo finish.

"We waited for the winning number to go up. It flashed on. Boom Town had come in second.

"My friends were full of explanations.

Lucky Guy

"That's all right fellows, I told them. He'd have won if it hadn't been for that pocket. He ran a grand race. He did too. It was worth fifty bucks to watch him.

"One of the chaps tore up his tickets and said, Let's go.

"I'd been so busy rooting for Boom Town I had forgotten to watch for Deep Sea Novice.

"'Wait a minute,' I said. 'I've got another ticket. Who won?'

"Number 9. It was the number of my long shot. We waited until the prices flashed on. Deep Sea Novice paid $104.

'So you see I'm a lucky guy to go to the track with," Wally ended, shaking a racing form under my nose. "I've got some good ones picked out today. How about it?"

"Okay. Wait until I make a phone call."

Terrible Day

All the way out in the joggling bus I studied the form with Wally. When we got there we went to the paddock and studied the horses. If they would have let us into the tack room we would have studied the jockeys.

We had a terrible day. When we played the favorites the long shots came in. When we hopped aboard a long shot the favorite scored. We couldn't win for losing.

On the way home Wally was silent and rather glum. Occasionally his lips moved silently, in and out, like a man making mental calculations. I was busy writing down notes on the goose woman and the floral decorations and the personalities of Steve Brooks and Johnny Longden, jockeys who had been cruel disappointments to us. By the end of the ride I was loaded with details which I haven't been able to find a place for in this essay.

When we alighted at Hollywood and Vine, Wally's expression brightened.

"I know what my trouble was," he said with the air of one making a discovery. "Tomorrow I'll knock 'em for a loop. Today I forgot to figure that the sun was shining."

TIP GIVEN ON POT THIEF IDENTITY

A possible solution to the recent series of "pot" thefts in Westlake was given police Saturday, July 7, by Mrs. Zanatta, 233 Bellevue Avenue.

She reported seeing a man get out of a pick up truck, enter the Mussendorfer estate near her home and come out with several potted plants.

Police believe this driver may be the man they are seeking for lifting potted plants from in front of Westlake homes over the past two weeks.

However, he made good his escape before Police could question him Saturday.

LEADERS REPORT ON WEEK'S WORK

by L. H. Reese
and Marge Erickson

The advanced folk dancing group has been learning several square dances. This very active group is always ready for a full hour of folk dancing and welcomes new girls and boys each week. With so many excellent dancers ready to help new comers, it isn't long before twenty to thirty couples are dancing around the room. We are happy to see so many boys coming out to join the group.

The small boys baseball teams have been having some exciting games since they have mastered a few of the games fundamentals. Boys from 8 to 11 years of age are welcome each Tuesday and Thursmornings. This Friday a return game is planned between Jefferson and Brisbane for the older boys team.

The weekly tournament schedule resulted in some new champions in ping pong and checkers. Last Wednesday, Benny Peralta won the boys ping pong with Joe Earnshaw as runner-up. Barbara Stein won the girls section by defeating Donna Shulda in the finals. Jim Rector and Joe Earnshaw proved to be the checkers wizards of the week. This Wednesday chess will be added to the tournament schedule. Everyone is welcome to participate.

Permission slips are being issued all this week for the big roller skating party at Skateland, on Wednesday, July 25th, 1951.

MARCHBANKS PLAYGROUND
by Bucky Linhares

Although the weather was not cooperative as usual, a hardy band from Lincoln, Jefferson and Marchbanks sailed through the rough and choppy waters of San Francisco Bay. This was the San Francisco Bay excursion with all participants leaving Fisherman's Wharf at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, July 11th. Such notable sights were viewed as the Presidio, Alcatraz, Treasure Island and Yerba Buena. Fisherman's Wharf and Aquatic Park were visited afterward.

On Friday, July 13, a highly successful picnic and skating party was held at Marchbanks. Hot dogs, soda and watermellon were on hand along with fine music for the skaters.

You need not go to Madison Square Garden to see the best in boxing. On Friday, July 20th, at 7 p.m. at the High School Gym, there will be an excellent array of boxing matches sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. Admission will be free and entertainment is promised to be at optimium.

Everyone remembers last year's skating party at Skateland. It was held at Skateland at the beach. Everyone agrees that it was a terrific outing and are anticipating its rebirth on Wednesday, July 23.

On Friday, July 27, at 11:30, a pet show will be held at Marchbanks. All pets to be entered should be held in check at all times with a leash or in a cage.

LINCOLN PARK
by Don Woll

The big thing this week is the boxing-wrestling tournament held at Jefferson High School Gym at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, July 20th. The results are not known yet, but we hope that ring veterans from last year, Ron Schmitke and Joe Fisher, come out victors again this year.

An interesting side light to last week's San Francisco Bay excursion is that the kids that didn't go along with the group are going by two's and three's with their parents. They heard from the kids that did go how good it was and so they decided to go see for themselves.

Also, on the Bay excursion, we noticed that two other families are giving the Gensels (George, Bill and Mary Ann) competition as far as participation of families in the outings. These two are Evelyn, Esther and Eddie Lason, and Carol, Diane and Howells Baird.

Wednesday, July 18, was the first tournament held at Lincoln this year which was a combination checkers and ping pong tournament.

ARTS AND CRAFTS
by Regina Warchot

Birds, birds, birds. That's all that you could hear, see or think at Arts and Crafts last week. As I walked into Parkview Monday morning there were the Village brothers, Donald and Ron, slaving away. When I asked what they were making, they said, almost simultaneously, "Birds!" They were really plastic lapel pins with a gold and silver finish which had to be cut, twisted, turned, woven and knotted into shape from two large strands of plastic.

Thinking this was very funny, I laughed and walked over to another table where small children (under 8 yrs. of age) were working furiously over unfamiliar objects. Being very curious, I asked the little girl who was pulling a string through a bright piece of cardboard, what she was making. As she turned to me, her eyes sparkled, an dshe picked up the pieces of paper, which she had previously been chewing on, and she squealed "Birds!"

That was enough. I hurried to the director for an explanation, but I'm sure that he saw me coming, for in his hand he held a finished project and explained that the Chinese ornaments that the children were making are called "Birdies." This was a logical enough explanation I though, so I smiled and walked away.

The next morning I went to the Crocker Playground where again I saw busy fingers and enthusiastic faces striving toward perfection. Two of the girls were finished with their work and on their way out, I could hear one say to the other, "Let's take our birds home and give them to Mother." Now, in their hand I could see the neatly trimmed, pasted and colored yellow objects which, I knew, from past experience to be ducks. But then I remembered, this is the age of wings, the air age, in which the huge birds, which flyin the sky, have become a common sight to everyone. So it's no wonder that our future generation is interested in "birds."
